

José Carreras Leukemia Clinical Research Award 2023

For the first time the former Leukemia Clinical Research Award (LCRA) will be sponsored by the José Carreras Leukämie Stiftung. The prize which was renamed after the new sponsor to José Carreras Leukemia Clinical Research Award 2023 (JCLCRA) will be awarded at the international symposium ACUTE LEUKEMIAS XVIII, Munich, Germany, which is scheduled for Sunday, March 19 through Wednesday, March 22, 2023. The award will be exclusively donated by the José Carreras Stiftung and is endowed with € 7,500.

The prize will be granted to a young investigator presenting a scientific paper in the field of clinical or preclinical research. The prize will be officially announced and handed out at ACUTE LEUKEMIAS XVIII. The winner will be informed in advance and will be asked to report publicly on his results in one of the Main Sessions of the symposium.

Applicants should be not older than 40. However with proof of parental leave the period can be extended by 2 years. If a work with several authors is submitted, the candidate for the award must be clearly recognizable in the summary. The application must contain a statement that all co-authors of the submitted work agree with the application for the Leukemia Clinical Research Award.

It must also be assured that the submitted work has not been submitted and will not be submitted for another prize until the jury's decisions has been made and all applicants have been notified.

The submitted work may contain results which have already been published. However, the publication should have been published not more than 12 months previously counting from the date of submitting the research work for the Leukemia Clinical Research Award.

APPLICATION PERIOD AND FORM:

The work can be submitted in English and German. Since the selection process is being organized by the José Carreras Leukämie Stiftung applications have to be submitted in electronic form via the corresponding JCLCRA link on the website of the José Carreras Leukämie Stiftung

The corresponding website link will be opened by December 1, 2022.

The Submission Deadline is January 15, 2023
